PROFESSIONAL PROFILES 2009

Midwest Orthopaedics at Rush

Midwest Orthopaedics at Rush (MOR) is a highly subspecialized orthopedic private group practice of over 30 physicians, primarily based at Rush University Medical Center, Central DuPage Hospital, and Rush Oak Park Hospital. The mission of Midwest Orthopaedics at Rush is to provide the highest level of patient care, education, and research possible.

The physicians of MOR hold academic appointments at Rush Medical College, are on the medical staff at Rush University Medical Center, and are active in patient education and research. They are all board certified and fellowship trained in the following specialties:

- Foot and Ankle
- Hand, Elbow, and Shoulder
- Hip and Knee Reconstruction and Replacement
- Orthopaedic Trauma, Oncology and Pediatric Orthopaedics
- Physical Medicine and Pain Management
- Spine, Back, and Neck and Spinal Deformity

- Sports Medicine, Women's and Pediatric Sports Medicine

Based on a long history of research, innovation, and clinical expertise, MOR offers unique and comprehensive programs including:

- Upper extremity section focusing on comprehensive treatment for the shoulder, elbow wrist, and hand
- Cartilage restoration
- Comprehensive spinal deformity program
- Comprehensive spine center that incorporates spine, back, and neck physicians with physical rehabilitation physicians and neurosurgeons
- Healthy Hip Clinic focuses on treatments that improve outcomes while delaying or eliminating the need for total joint replacement
- The latest techniques in joint replacement including minimally invasive approaches (which allow the patients to leave the same day as surgery in many cases), hip resurfacing, and complex hip revisions.

U.S. News & World Report ranks the Rush University Medical Center Orthopedic Program as the nation's tenth best and it is the highest ranked program in the state of Illinois. The physicians of MOR serve as the team physicians for the Chicago Bulls, Chicago White Sox, and DePaul University, as well as many other professional, collegiate, and high school teams and clubs.

Midwest Orthopaedics at Rush — Foot and Ankle

The foot and ankle surgeons of MOR are board certified orthopaedic surgeons who have advanced fellowship training in foot and ankle surgery. Dr. Holmes, Dr. Lee, and Dr. Lin provide comprehensive surgical and non-surgical approaches to the treatment of foot and ankle problems. In situations that require surgical intervention, these surgeons are highly skilled in procedures such as the new osteotomy-sparing bunion procedure originated at Rush, total ankle replacement, cartilage replacement, tendon repair, arthroscopic procedures, diabetic limb salvage, and complex reconstructive procedures. They are also proficient in the care of arthritic disorders, heel pain, traumatic injuries, and sports-related conditions.

The MOR foot and ankle doctors have also served as educators and volunteers in both the local and national medical community. They participate in educational activities for medical students, residents, orthopaedic and non-orthopaedic physicians, nurses, physician assistants, workers' compensation case managers, occupational therapists, physical therapists, podiatrists, and orthotists.

These physicians have served as consultants to organizations such as local high school and college teams, local club sports, the Chicago Marathon, the Chicago Triathlon, the Joffrey Ballet, River North Dancers, Hubbard Street Dance, the DePaul Blue Demons, Chicago White Sox, and the Chicago Bulls.
